Introducing HighLight.

HighLight – a voice to inspire
the leaders of children and young people in this nation and other nations.

keys to generational development

High Light

Education has a key role in transforming society by shaping future generations of young people.

HighLight offers a voice of experience, provocation and wise advice through tried and tested principles. Our desire is to offer this to all who work in leading and educating young people, in order to help them become responsible moral citizens who can build bridges, rather than walls, across a divided society. HighLight offers 'Keys' – guidelines and help to achieve this.

HighLight is led by David Freeman and a team of experienced school educators who have examined the way in which the Christian message can be harnessed and deployed as an effective tool for producing quality young people, who are at peace with themselves and able to make a significant contribution to the local community and to the world around them. HighLight offers the chance for schools and other involved groups to explore this in more detail through a range of publications, seminars and longer training sessions.

HighLight is of particular interest to those responsible for the following:

- Pupil welfare and citizenship.
- Religious education.
- Personal, social, moral and health education.

'Keys' to Generational Development.

At first glance, many of these areas may seem already embedded in best practice within the pastoral and wider curriculum. However, there are crucial aspects within these 'Keys' that may be lost. HighLight works with school leaders, parents, teachers and youth leaders to promote or 'highlight' these truths.

Keys encompass the following areas:

Foundational Keys

Worldview, Honest Motives, Leadership, Vision and Ethos.

Relational Keys

Social Justice, Unconditional Acceptance, Mentoring, Behaviour Management, Parents and Carers, Teacher/Youth Worker as Role Model.

Educational Keys

Wisdom, Educating the Whole Person, Uniqueness of the Individual, A Stimulating Learning Environment, Assessment: Measuring of Performance.

The HighLight team includes:

David Freeman

David has over 35 years experience in state and independent schools. He was the founding headteacher for 17 years of The King's School near Oxford which has a consistently high record of academic and character achievement. He is a director of an OFSTED approved schools' inspectorate. David has worked for many years to pioneer schools, train teachers and envision parents and leaders in the UK and in Canada, Poland, Kazakhstan, India and many African countries.

Janet Sharp

Janet is currently Principal, applying HighLight values to a large Church of England Aided school in Worthing. Janet brought her school out of special measures in 2003 and in 2005 was recognised with an OFSTED 'Particularly Successful School' Award. The school recently achieved an 'Investor in People Gold Award' which recognised the strong Christian ethos which underpins the school's work.

Paul Johnson

Paul's background for 25 years was within the state system as a successful senior leader. He led award-winning initiatives in the field of school business partnerships. Paul qualified as a headteacher in 2003 and is currently leading the thriving King's School in Southampton.

Fiona Norcross

Fiona is currently Principal of Immanuel School in Romford. She has worked for 30 years in the education, church and youth arenas, mentoring and inspiring children and young people. Her heart is to disciple teenagers, encouraging them to become passionate young men and women for the Lord.

Joseph and Rally Ikiede

He was involved in pioneering The King's School near Oxford, contributing significantly to the leadership as both a parent and a trustee. His passion is to promote and communicate Christian values, encouraging and challenging schools to be radical in their application.
